

IPE 1.0: Lessons for Learners and Educators

Interprofessional Education 1.0 was held in the spring of 2016. This simulated experience, using standardized patients, offered students the opportunity to learn to work collaboratively with other disciplines to provide patient care. The event brought together sixty students representing Viterbo University's Dietetics, Nursing, and Social Work Departments and University of Wisconsin-La Crosse's Physician Assistant and Physical Therapy programs. Staff from each of these disciplines, with coordination and support from Scenic Rivers Area Health Education Center, worked together for the better part of the school year to develop and deliver this program.
