Diabetes Technology – Embracing Your Inner Diabetes Nerd

Description of content you will cover - as it should appear in program materials:

Apps, CGMs and Pumps – Oh My! Change can be scary. This session will increase your comfort in using Blueloop for logging blood sugars and calculating insulin doses. The diabetes educators will discuss advancements in continuous glucose monitoring (Dexcom and Libre) and insulin pumps with guidelines for care in the school setting.

Please write a few lines we can use to introduce you at the conference:

Lynn has worked at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin for over 20 years, the last 8 years as a Certified Diabetes Educator in the Diabetes clinic. Over the last few years Lynn has worked in partnership with Blueloop to develop an app to assist with communication and care in the school setting. Kristie's most recent clinical experience involves working as a diabetes nurse educator with pediatric patients in the outpatient setting at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin. She also has more than eight years of experience working as a school nurse in the Milwaukee Public School system.
