WNA COUNCILS

Wisconsin Nurses Association has three Councils, each consisting of 6-10 members, who are either elected by the membership or appointed by the WNA Board of Directors as needed. The Councils are: a. Workforce Advocacy, b. Nursing Practice and Quality, Research, and Education, and c. Public Policy.

The WNA Councils are the identified structural units of WNA. Their collective role is to advance WNA's goals and strategic plan, which in turn support the professional image and practice of Wisconsin's RNs.

WORKFORCE ADVOCACY COUNCIL

WNA's Workforce Advocacy Council is responsible for reviewing the activities, work products, tools, and services offered through WNA's Workforce Advocacy Program, which provides members with professional practice advocacy services, including supporting the nurse's professional integrity, rights and responsibilities, ethics, principles, advancement of practice standards, and personal well-being.

The Council collaborates with WNA's other Councils, Mutual Interest Groups, and Task Forces as appropriate. The Council provides quarterly reports to WNA's Board of Directors and an Annual Report to the membership.

You may be asked to help facilitate Rapid Response Conference Calls, which are opportunities for members to call in and give their feedback on important issues. It is expected that you will prepare for and attend all meetings, which annually consist of one face-to-face meeting (approximately five hours in length), and monthly or bi-monthly conference calls (one hour).

NURSING PRACTICE AND QUALITY, RESEARCH, AND EDUCATION COUNCIL

WNA's Nursing Practice and Quality, Research, and Education Council identifies an agenda relating to nursing practice and quality, research, and education, based on WNA's goals and strategic plan. The Council reviews and promotes opportunities for nursing practice and quality, which may include promoting best practices and reviewing important documents pertaining to Scope of Practice, Professional Standards, and ANA's Code of Ethics. While doing so, the Council helps provide a forum for discussion on issues related to nursing practice. The Council encourages and facilitates research opportunities. The Council also helps guide WNA's educational agenda, which includes informing nurses of educational issues and opportunities.

The Council collaborates with WNA's other Councils, Mutual Interest Groups, and Task Forces as appropriate. The Council provides quarterly reports to WNA's Board of Directors and an Annual Report to the membership.

You may be asked to help facilitate Rapid Response Conference Calls, which are opportunities for members to call in and give their feedback on important issues. It is expected that you will prepare for and attend all meetings, which annually consist of one face-to-face meetings (approximately five hours in length), and monthly or bi-monthly conference calls (one hour).

PUBLIC POLICY COUNCIL

WNA's Public Policy Council monitors and evaluates legislative and regulatory policies that can have an impact on nurses and health care and promotes nurse participation in the public policy process. The Council creates a Public Policy Agenda for the Association based on WNA's goals and strategic plan. The Council develops a lobbying and education strategy, reviews proposed legislation and regulation to determine if WNA should support or oppose, and provides updates to the membership on the status of legislation and regulations.

The Council collaborates with WNA's other Councils, Mutual Interest Groups, and Task Forces as appropriate. The Council provides quarterly reports to WNA's Board of Directors and an Annual Report to the membership.

As a member of the Council, you should expect to review proposed legislation, make recommendations, and overall actively participate in the development and monitoring of WNA's Public Policy Agenda. You should be willing to provide testimony on behalf of WNA as needed, as well as engage other WNA members if grassroots involvement is needed. You may be asked to help facilitate Rapid Response Conference Calls, which are opportunities for members to call in and give their feedback on important issues. It is expected that you will prepare for and attend all meetings, which annually consist of two face-to-face meetings (five hours, scheduled on a Saturday), and monthly or bi-monthly conference calls (one hour).

WNA COMMITTEES

The Wisconsin Nurses Association has several Committees, which are composed of members appointed by WNA's Board of Directors. However, because WNA's Nominating Committee helps prepare the ballot to elect WNA's Board of Directors, the Bylaws specifically require that the Nominating Committee be elected by the membership to ensure transparency and autonomy.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE

The Nominating Committee provides nominees for the WNA Board of Directors (Officers and Directors), Councils, and Committees, as well as candidates for WNA Representative to ANA Membership Assembly. Committee members take the time to learn the role of positions that need to be filled and help prepare leadership succession strategies. Committee members ensure appropriate diversity is represented throughout WNA's structural units. They select candidates who are understanding and tolerant of the viewpoints of others and who are willing to interact openly and directly with other members and WNA staff.

The Nominating Committee meets via conference call, typically one hour in duration, from April to August. A standard election season will require three to four conference calls. Committee members also make personal contact with members to inquire about their interest in running for office. A Committee member typically calls six to ten members per election cycle.

WNA REPRESENTATIVE TO ANA MEMBERSHIP ASSEMBLY

The Membership Assembly is the governing and official voting body of the American Nurses Association (ANA). It identifies and discusses issues of concern to members and provides direction to ANA's Board of Directors.

WNA members send two representatives to the ANA Membership Assembly. One representative is the WNA President. The other is elected-at-large. Please note that this position is a two-year position, which means that the elected representative will make two trips to Washington DC to conduct business at Membership Assembly. Membership Assembly meetings are typically held in June or July. WNA will provide a stipend to the representative for each trip. If the elected representative is unable to attend, the next candidate with the highest vote totals will serve as the representative.
