	Leveling Up School Nursing Practice with the NASN School Nursing Practice Framework The NASN Framework for 21st Century Practice was initially released in 2015. In 2023, NASN undertook a mixed-method research approach to review/update the framework to ensure the framework remained relevant for school nurses across the country. This work resulted in the newly named School Nursing Practice FrameworkTM. This presentation will review the steps taken in revising the framework, the components of the framework, and will discuss how the framework can assist school nurses in leveling up their nursing practice by providing actionable strategies that school nurses can employ within their schools and communities. 	(ALL)  Last August, DPI released updated training and guidance related to the mandated reporting of child maltreatment for school staff. The DPI has undergone revisions to the training to provide more effective guidance to school staff aimed at improving the quality of reports and the outcomes for students. In this session, we will discuss the main drivers behind the	APSW — School Social Worker Consultant, Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction shifts in guidance. We will discuss concerns and reactions to these changes, and how to respond to questions from colleagues and families. Session Objectives: Participants will: 1) Be able to articulate the reasons behind the shifts in guidance for mandated reporters. 2) Be able to describe the implications of research and lived experience on shifts in guidance nationally. 3) Be able to advocate for best practices at your current school/district.
	(N)  Preparing for Emergency Responses in the School Setting This presentation will cover responding to medical emergencies at school. It will include information, tools, and resources for all school nurses, novice to experts. Objectives include creating and training a Medical Emergency Response Team (MERT), creating a Go Bag (and team kits), notifying staff about a student health concern, scenarios for Basic and Advanced Medical Response Drills, and Evaluating and Debriefing	Jennifer Kawleski, BSN, RN, LSN, NCSN — School Nurse Coordinator, Fort HealthCare School Nurse Program after a drill or actual medical emergency.  4C School Nurse Documentation in IEPs Beyond the Basics: How school nurse scope and practice fit This session is for experienced school nurses looking to evolve their practice. Participants will be given clear examples of how The School Nursing Scope and Standards of Practice affects their everyday practice and will learn how to articulate that to school administrators, teachers, and others. School nurse documentation in IEPs will be the basis for this session exploring how school nurses use professional scope and standards while demonstrating the core of School Nursing practice at the nexus of the educational and healthcare systems.	Louise Wilson, MS, BSN, RN, LSN, NCSN — State School Nurse/Health Services Consultant, WI Department of Public Instruction 4D (ALL) With 3 quick actions, you can be trained to save a life. Injury is the number one cause of death for American's aged 45 and younger, and uncontrolled bleeding is the leading cause of preventable death. Learn what bystanders can do to stop potentially fatal bleeding before professional emergency responders arrive. STOP THE BLEED® is an hourlong course that teaches how to identify and treat life-threatening bleeding. The course includes a formal presentation from trained instructors along with hands-on application to include direct pressure, wound packing, and tourniquet application. Stop the Bleed® is a program of the American College of Surgeons and is brought to you by Froedtert & the Medical College of Wisconsin.
